ELECTRICAL INSULATION /

At Azaros, we supply a wide range of mica-based products directly from factory, complying with international standards and are ready to be part of multiple production processes.

Mica is a mineral that belongs to a large group of alumina, iron, calcium, magnesium and alkaline mineral silicates. It is characterized with easy exfoliation into thin, flexible, elastic and very shiny sheets that provide it excellent electrical and thermal insulation properties, very attractive for numerous industrial sectors.

Mica is supplied in two qualities: Phlogopite and Muscovite.
